"An Important Contrast"
Pat Lipperini

In the lectionary cycle of Sunday readings there is always a close connection between the first reading (chosen from the Old Testament except during the Easter Season and certain other special masses) and the Gospel. The First Reading may foreshadow events in the life of Jesus, may effectively parallel or contrast events or teachings portrayed in the Gospel, or may provide the background to an event that is fulfilled by Jesus. The choice of readings is artful and is meant to deepen our understanding of God's message to us. Today's readings, featuring Job and Jesus, are especially illustrative of the richness provided by our Lectionary.

In the First Reading, we encounter Job speaking of the inexplicable misfortunes that have befallen him. He is miserable and understands there is no rationale for his suffering, though his friends insist it must be God's punishment. Whatever the cause, or minus a cause, Job knows he is broken. His sleepless nights: "the night drags on; I am filled with restlessness until the dawn," epitomize his hopelessness and ache for meaning. Perhaps his laments may recall our own low moments or those of someone dear to us. We know that his feeling of purposelessness is not a good place to be.

Job's ennui is in sharp contrast to Jesus' vibrant activity in the Gospel. Jesus moves from place to place with purpose and efficacy. In this short passage he travels from the synagogue, heals Simon's mother-in-law," and attends to many others as "the whole town" looks on. The gospel shows Jesus also greeting the dawn, not in a restless loneliness, but in intimate communion with his Father in prayer. He then continues to travel around, teaching and healing wherever he goes. Moreover, it is not only Jesus who is on the move in the Gospel. His disciples, Simon's mother-in-law, and even the townspeople who bring the sick to Jesus, are all actively involved in his ministry.

If we look at these two passages as contrasts, it is not to compare or judge the main characters or set them up as foils for each other. Job is crushed, through no fault of his own, so we are not criticizing him personally. And Jesus is, well, Jesus. No, the contrast that the readings present is one between despair and hope. Despair, symbolized in Job, looks inward and finds an empty chasm. Hope, embodied by Jesus and exemplified by those around him, looks outward and finds a ready fountain.

We all know some aspect of sadness, loneliness, and despair. How do we fight it? How do we keep the worst of these emotions from overwhelming us? We know that by ourselves we cannot rise. We will continue to sit in a pit of hopelessness, closed off from assistance. Then where is the fountain that can nourish our drained resources? It is right before us. "The Lord rebuilds Jerusalem" and all those brokenhearted and broken. The Lord comes to us and offers a life-giving stream: "For this purpose I have come."

So let us help each other push away from despair. Let us, like the townspeople, "gather at the door" in expectation of Jesus' powerful healing. Let us move with Jesus. By following him, taking the risk to open our hearts to him, actively engaging in the life of the Church, imitating his commitment to prayer and service, we establish and can maintain a posture of hope, a wide open window for grace to enter and transform our lives and the lives of those around us.

"He approached, grasped her hand, and helped her up." Mark 1:31

Stewards Pray

"Rising very early before dawn, he left and went off to a deserted place, where he prayed...He told them, 'Let us go on to the nearby villages that I may preach there also. For this purpose have I come.'" Mark 1: 35,38

In today's Gospel reading we see a perfect example of Stewardship. Jesus gives His time to do all that God wishes - healing the sick and preaching. But before He begins, Jesus makes time to be alone with God in prayer. It is through prayer, spending time with God, that we find the strength to do what He wishes us to do. Be sure to find time every day to be with God.

LIFE-LONG FAITH FORMATION

Growing in Faith At Every Age

*I want a laity, ... who know their religion, who enter into it, who know just where they stand, who know what they hold and what they do not, who know their creed so well that they can give an account of it, who know so much of history that they can defend it. I want an intelligent, well-instructed laity — I wish you to enlarge your knowledge, to cultivate your reason, to get an insight into the relation of truth to truth, to learn to view things as they are, to understand how faith and reason stand to each other, what are the bases and principles of Catholicism...Cardinal John Henry Newman

RCIA

The Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults is the process of welcoming people who want to be full members of the Catholic faith community. This includes those who have never been baptized, those baptized in other Christian denominations, and baptized Catholics who have not received the Sacraments of Eucharist and Confirmation. RCIA is not a “class” but rather a journey of faith. In the company of a group of faith-filled parishioners who serve as the RCIA team and with other people inquiring about the Church, and through experiences of prayer, faith-sharing, instruction, and discussion, you will have the opportunity to grow in your relationship with God as you discover how your faith could be nurtured with the Catholic tradition. If you would like to learn more about RCIA please call Father Yvans.

GLORIA

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace to people of good will. We praise you; we bless you; we adore you; we glorify you; we give you thanks for your great glory, Lord God, heavenly King, O God, almighty Father. Lord Jesus Christ, Only Begotten Son, Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father, you take away the sins of the world, have mercy on us; you take away the sins of the world, receive our prayer; you are seated at the right hand of the Father, have mercy on us. For you alone are the Holy One, you alone are the Lord, you alone are the Most High, Jesus Christ, with the Holy Spirit, in the glory of God, the Father. Amen.

FIRST READING: Job 1-4, 6-7

Job spoke, saying: Is not man's life on earth a drudgery? Are not his days those of hirelings? He is a slave who longs for the shade, a hireling who waits for his wages. So I have been assigned months of misery, and troubled nights have been allotted to me. If in bed I say, "When shall I arise?" then the night drags on; I am filled with restlessness until the dawn. My days are swifter than a weaver's shuttle; they come to an end without hope. Remember that my life is like the wind; I shall not see happiness again.

SECOND READING: 1 Corinthians 9: 16-19, 22-23

Brothers and sisters: If I preach the gospel, this is no reason for me to boast, for an obligation has been imposed on me, and woe to me if I do not preach it! If I do so willingly, I have a recompense, but if unwillingly, then I have been entrusted with a stewardship. What then is my recompense? That, when I preach, I offer the gospel free of charge so as not to make full use of my right in the gospel. Although I am free in regard to all, I have made myself a slave to all so as to win over as many as possible. To the weak I became weak, to win over the weak. I have become all things to all, to save at least some. All this I do for the sake of the gospel, so that I too may have a share in it.

GOSPEL: Mark 1: 29-39

On leaving the synagogue Jesus entered the house of Simon and Andrew with James and John. Simon's mother-in-law lay sick with a fever. They immediately told him about her. He approached, grasped her hand, and helped her up. Then the fever left her and she waited on them.

When it was evening, after sunset, they brought to him all who were ill or possessed by demons. The whole town was gathered at the door. He cured many who were sick with various diseases, and he drove out many demons, not permitting them to speak because they knew him.

Rising very early before dawn, he left and went off to a deserted place, where he prayed. Simon and those who were with him pursued him and on finding him said, "Everyone is looking for you." He told them, "Let us go on to the nearby villages that I may preach there also. For this purpose have I come." So he went into their synagogues, preaching and driving out demons throughout the whole of Galilee.

CREED:

I believe in one God, the Father almighty, maker of heaven and earth, of all things visible and invisible. I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God, born of the Father before all ages. God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God, begotten, not made, consubstantial with the Father, through him all things were made. For us men and for our salvation, he came down from heaven.

At the words that follow, up to and including "and became man", all bow.

And by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary, and became man.

For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate, he suffered death and was buried, and rose again on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures. He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father. He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead and his kingdom will have no end. I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life, who proceeds from the Father and the Son, who with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified, who has spoken through the prophets. I believe in one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church. I confess one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead and the life of the world to come. Amen.
