Thirteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time: June 27, 2021

My Brothers and Sisters, I want to present an article that was written by Donna Ottaviano-Britt about the faith sharing group in our parish that was started this past Lent. It was beneficial to all those who participated. Let us continue to be an inspiration to one another by sharing our faith with our brother and sisters. Father Yvans Jazon, Pastor

John and Gina Richards of Saint Teresa Parish, Collingswood, on Zoom with other parishioners.

The parish is a place that contributes to making people holy. It is a place providing abundant opportunities for genuine encounters with God (during Mass and elsewhere). A vibrant parish fills the deep longing everyone has — to belong and be accepted. These last 15 pandemic months presented some of the most exquisite barriers to these efforts in our lifetime.

The loneliness, isolation and sadness felt crushing to many. Parishes had to find new and creative ways to care for their people. Jesus commands us, “Go! Make disciples of all nations.” He delivered this mission in the first century and has in every century since.

Saint Teresa of Calcutta Parish, Collingswood, took up this mission and stepped out in the faith of its patron. They began the great work to which Jesus calls us. Through the power of small group, the Missionary Discipleship team began the critical work of cultivating friendships across a broad swath of the parish. Faith sharing was the fundamental building block to build friendship, trust and real connection.

Pete Dunn, leader of this ministry, shared how important this work became for the team. They kicked off this initiative in Lent and prayed it would be fruitful. The big driving force was the pandemic itself, and using Zoom was the only path at the time.

“Parishioners were seeking connection; they wanted to make some friends and get to know others,” he said. Armed with a deep understanding of this tremendous need, the team set about making it happen.

It takes planning, and the team started just after Christmas — the target was to launch at the onset of Lent. For the team, it was all about invitation into a personal encounter with Jesus through others, creating the belonging people so needed, and paving a real path to community building.

Margie, a new parishioner and recently divorced after a long marriage, said she was seeking a small faith-sharing group.

“I needed more intimacy. ... I needed to be nourished in my faith. Being a participant in the small group experience exceeded my expectations because it provided me safety, sincerity and sharing,” she said.

Marnie Johnson, a participant and a parish catechist, said she was excited about the process. “It was a chance to connect with other people and share our faith journeys. It was helpful to gain perspectives of others, and wonderful to hear how other people experience their own sacrifices. Lent is a time of spiritual growth and I found it all so inspiring,” she said.

Dunn added that companionship was important to him. “I met people I didn’t know until this. These are people I know now, and continue to get to know. I have new friends,” he said.

From a facilitator perspective, it can feel like pressure. Kim and Bob Gardine were part of the planning team, and knew they would lead. Kim said people were not necessarily looking for answers but wanted company for the journey.

Fran and Bruce Boyer, long-time parishioners, who also helped plan the launch of small groups found the experience uplifting and impactful. Bruce was candid about his fear of using technology and thought it would be a barrier to intimacy and concerned people would not share as easily.

“The people were ready. ... They just needed the personal invitation,” he said.

Fran said the experience really opened her eyes to the fact that parishes must have different avenues for their people. She shared there were young adults and busy parents who were so grateful to have this opportunity. These participants did not have the travel time before or after a small group gathering, but an hour using technology from home worked for them. These participants shared they could not have participated in a face-to-face group.

Fran said this is a wakeup call, and a big learning for the team. “We are going to have to consider hybrid offerings going forward to meet a diverse set of needs for people,” she added.

Pete said having good content and a structure with ground rules was critically important. For this offering, each group watched a short video from the Catholic Apostolate Center. Each week addressed a different element of being a disciple of Jesus, and ultimately a missionary disciple — one who forms others. There was also a leader’s guide and a participant guide to support discussions. When you are asking people to lead, and they have not done it before, some structure, good content, and training helps, he said.

Kim, speaking for both herself and Bob, said she is convinced they got the most out of their small group. “We were not raised to share our faith. We have only been here two and a half years. We belonged elsewhere for 30 years and know some people here better,” she said.

“Though we think we are preaching to the choir, telling your story is so important. Stories matter ... and they create bonds and friendship. You bring you. You bring your gifts,” Bruce added.

Some groups are breaking for summer, and they will gather again in the fall or for Advent. Others found such fruit in the experience that they are continuing.

“It’s a great way to rejuvenate your faith. If you are lost or in a routine, I think one way out is the small group. You realize others are struggling, too, and you are not alone. The Lord is at the center,” Pete said.

Such a simple and profound statement — the Lord is at the center, and he told us so. “Wherever two or three are gathered in my name, there am I in the midst of them” (Mt 18:20).

Intercessory Prayer Ministry

Parish Prayer Intention for the Week of June 27—July 3

We ask you Father to give direction to the Parish Finance Committee of St Teresa of Calcutta. Aid them in their responsibilities to act as a consultative body which assists the pastor to act justly and prudently in the administration of the parish's material goods. Guide them in their three main areas of responsibility- Administration and Finance, Facility Management, and Stewardship and Development. Direct their efforts so that all Temporal concerns are aimed at the spiritual transformation of our parish community. May the material aspects which are discussed not detract from the primary work of our parish: the holiness of all its members.

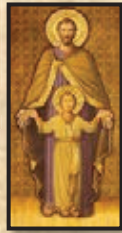

*Let my prayer be incense before you; my uplifted hands an evening offering.

LIFE-LONG FAITH FORMATION

Growing in Faith At Every Age

*I want a laity, ... who know their religion, who enter into it, who know just where they stand, who know what they hold and what they do not, who know their creed so well that they can give an account of it, who know so much of history that they can defend it. I want an intelligent, well-instructed laity — I wish you to enlarge your knowledge, to cultivate your reason, to get an insight into the relation of truth to truth, to learn to view things as they are, to understand how faith and reason stand to each other, what are the bases and principles of Catholicism...Cardinal John Henry Newman

RCIA

The Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults is the process of welcoming people who want to be full members of the Catholic faith community. This includes those who have never been baptized, those baptized in other Christian denominations, and baptized Catholics who have not received the Sacraments of Eucharist and Confirmation. RCIA is not a “class” but rather a journey of faith. In the company of a group of faith-filled parishioners who serve as the RCIA team and with other people inquiring about the Church, and through experiences of prayer, faith-sharing, instruction, and discussion, you will have the opportunity to grow in your relationship with God as you discover how your faith could be nurtured with the Catholic tradition. If you would like to learn more about RCIA please call Father Yvans.

Parish, Diocesan and Community Information

Walking With Moms In Need

At the request of Pope Francis and with the support of the US Catholic bishops, parishioners are encouraged to be informed about the resources available in our parish and the community that could assist pregnant women in crisis and young families in need. Whether this person is a family member, a neighbor or a total stranger, you can be a source of hope to a struggling pregnant woman or young family by providing information about services that could help them in a difficult situation. As Catholics we are called to uphold the sanctity of life and the dignity of all people.

You can view the Walking With Moms In Need document on our parish website home page, under Parish Headlines.

Also, consider downloading the pdf and/or making a paper copy of this information so that it is accessible to share, should you encounter someone in need of these resources. Thank you in advance for your faithful witness to Gospel values.

June 27, 2021: Steward Faithfulness 13th Sunday in Ordinary Time "Stewardship Sharing"

"...as a matter of equality your abundance at the present time should supply their want, so that their abundance may supply your want, that there may be equality." 2 CORINTHIANS 8:14

One of the tenets of living a Stewardship lifestyle is giving without expecting anything in return. It is important that we not only grow, nurture and share our gifts; but that we also teach our children and encourage others to do the same. This is the communal aspect of our Catholic faith. We are the "Body of Christ". We are called to be dependent on each other and not live in isolation.

We praise you; we bless you; we adore you; we glorify you; we give you thanks for your great glory, Lord God, heavenly King, O God, almighty Father. Lord Jesus Christ, Only Begotten Son, Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father, you take away the sins of the world, have mercy on us; you take away the sins of the world, receive our prayer; you are seated at the right hand of the Father, have mercy on us. For you alone are the Holy One, you alone are the Lord, you alone are the Most High, Jesus Christ, with the Holy Spirit, in the glory of God, the Father. Amen.

FIRST READING: Wisdom 1: 13-15;2:23-24

God did not make death, nor does he rejoice in the destruction of the living. For he fashioned all things that they might have being; and the creatures of the world are wholesome, and there is not a destructive drug among them nor any domain of the netherworld on earth, for justice is undying. For God formed man to be imperishable; the image of his own nature he made him. But by the envy of the devil, death entered the world, and they who belong to his company experience it.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

PSALM 30: 13TH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME, YEAR B

R. I will praise you, Lord, for you have res - cued me.

Text © 1969, 1981, 1997, ICEL. All rights reserved. Used with permission.
Music: Owen Alstott, © 1977, 1990, OCP. All rights reserved.

SECOND READING: 2 Corinthians 8:7,9,13-15

Brothers and sisters: As you excel in every respect, in faith, discourse, knowledge, all earnestness, and in the love we have for you, may you excel in this gracious act also. For you know the gracious act of our Lord Jesus Christ, that though he was rich, for your sake he became poor, so that by his poverty you might become rich. Not that others should have relief while you are burdened, but that as a matter of equality your abundance at the present time should supply their needs, so that their abundance may also supply your needs, that there may be equality. As it is written: Whoever had much did not have more, and whoever had little did not have less.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION: Alleluia, Alleluia, Alleluia

GOSPEL: Mark 5:21-43

When Jesus had crossed again in the boat to the other side, a large crowd gathered around him, and he stayed close to the sea. One of the synagogue officials, named Jairus, came forward. Seeing him he fell at his feet and pleaded earnestly with him, saying, "My daughter is at the point of death. Please, come lay your hands on her that she may get well and live." He went off with him, and a large crowd followed him and pressed upon him.

There was a woman afflicted with hemorrhages for twelve years. She had suffered greatly at the hands of many doctors and had spent all that she had. Yet she was not helped but only grew worse. She had heard about Jesus and came up behind him in the crowd and touched his cloak. She said, "If I but touch his clothes, I shall be cured." Immediately her flow of blood dried up. She felt in her body that she was healed of her affliction. Jesus, aware at once that power had gone out from him, turned around in the crowd and asked, "Who has touched my clothes?" But his disciples said to Jesus, "You see how the crowd is pressing upon you, and yet you ask, 'Who touched me?'" And he looked around to see who had done it. The woman, realizing what had happened to her, approached in fear and trembling. She fell down before Jesus and told him the whole truth. He said to her, "Daughter, your faith has saved you. Go in peace and be cured of your affliction."

While he was still speaking, people from the synagogue official's house arrived and said, "Your daughter has died; why trouble the teacher any longer?" Disregarding the message that was reported, Jesus said to the synagogue official, "Do not be afraid; just have faith." He did not allow anyone to accompany him inside except Peter, James, and John, the brother of James. When they arrived at the house of the synagogue official, he caught sight of a commotion, people weeping and wailing loudly. So he went in and said to them, "Why this commotion and weeping? The child is not dead but asleep." And they ridiculed him. Then he put them all out. He took along the child's father and mother and those who were with him and entered the room where the child was. He took the child by the hand and said to her, "Talitha kum," which means, "Little girl, I say to you, arise!" The girl, a child of twelve, arose immediately and walked around. At that they were utterly astounded. He gave strict orders that no one should know this and said that she should be given something to eat.

CREED:

I believe in one God, the Father almighty, maker of heaven and earth, of all things visible and invisible. I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God, born of the Father before all ages. God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God, begotten, not made, consubstantial with the Father, through him all things were made. For us men and for our salvation, he came down from heaven.

At the words that follow, up to and including "and became man", all bow.

And by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary, and became man.

For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate, he suffered death and was buried, and rose again on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures. He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father. He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead and his kingdom will have no end. I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life, who proceeds from the Father and the Son, who with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified, who has spoken through the prophets. I believe in one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church. I confess one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead and the life of the world to come. Amen.
