With God's Help
Pat Lipperini

Every new parent has this moment. You bring your beautiful baby out in public. You know how captivating your child is, but now it is for the world to see. So you wait for the praise. And it comes, sure as rain from storm clouds. The oohs and aahhs, the “look at those big eyes,” the “she looks just like you!” Inevitably, there are wishes and prayers for a happy future. It is a moment of blessing and you return home happy and maybe a little more confident as parents.

But what if, in addition to the oohs and aahhs, someone predicted something serious or dramatic about your child? Think how unsettled your heart would be. Think how you would feel upon your return home. Would you be extra cautious? Extra anxious? Would you feel burdened by the responsibility? Would you doubt your ability to care properly for this child?

Last Wednesday we celebrated the Presentation of the Lord, the day that Mary and Joseph brought Jesus to the Temple to satisfy Jewish Law. While there, they meet two people, Simeon and Anna, who notice right away that this is no ordinary child. Simeon blesses God and proclaims that Jesus will be “a light for revelation to the Gentiles, and glory for your people, Israel.” Admittedly, this is talk well beyond the everyday praise given to children. Luke tells us that Mary and Joseph thought so too, for “the child’s father and mother were amazed at what was said about him.” Yet after these disquieting claims, they returned home with Jesus and “the child grew and became strong, filled with wisdom.”

The first two chapters of Luke’s gospel contain a number of other instances that seemingly would challenge any parent. Traveling great distance on a donkey while pregnant, giving birth in a barn, hearing about angels singing from poor shepherds, and years later—searching three days for a lost son. We can only wonder how Mary and Joseph handled it all with such grace and courage.

As we go about our lives, it is good to remember the heroic humanity of Mary and Joseph. We see them now thru the lens of the resurrection and church tradition, but they were real people trying to care for their beloved and extraordinary child given to them by God. Luke tells us twice that Mary “kept all these things” and pondered upon them in her heart. In the original Greek, the pondering by Mary has a sense of working hard at understanding, something we all do each day when faced with our own struggles and challenges. However, Mary’s pondering always occurred within the context of a deep faith and trust in God. She and Joseph might have been amazed by what Simeon told them, but they were not overwhelmed by its implications. They knew it was not their own power or ability alone that would raise and protect Jesus. They knew God was with them and that was enough.

We can pray for this same capacity to trust in God, but we also can make efforts to work at it. By committing to prayer, by staying close to the Eucharist, and by spending time with scripture we can come to know God better. When we do, we will understand that our human efforts are perfectly complimented by divine assistance. We do not have to go it alone and that should give us all the confidence we need.

Stewards: Send Me

"Then I heard the voice of the Lord saying, 'Whom shall I send? Who will go for us?' 'Here I am,' I said, 'send me!'" (ISAIAH 6:8)

Every day, in little ways and in big ways, God asks, "Whom shall I send?" Whether it is someone to take on a new Stewardship ministry, to give a friendly smile to a stranger or to say a word of encouragement to a friend, God constantly provides opportunities to help someone in need. God is always talking to us; we just need to pay more attention. When you hear God calling, have the courage to walk through the door and say, "Here I am, Lord."

LIFE-LONG FAITH FORMATION

Growing in Faith At Every Age

*I want a laity, ... who know their religion, who enter into it, who know just where they stand, who know what they hold and what they do not, who know their creed so well that they can give an account of it, who know so much of history that they can defend it. I want an intelligent, well-instructed laity — I wish you to enlarge your knowledge, to cultivate your reason, to get an insight into the relation of truth to truth, to learn to view things as they are, to understand how faith and reason stand to each other, what are the bases and principles of Catholicism...Cardinal John Henry Newman

RCIA

The Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults is the process of welcoming people who want to be full members of the Catholic faith community. This includes those who have never been baptized, those baptized in other Christian denominations, and baptized Catholics who have not received the Sacraments of Eucharist and Confirmation. RCIA is not a “class” but rather a journey of faith. In the company of a group of faith-filled parishioners who serve as the RCIA team and with other people inquiring about the Church, and through experiences of prayer, faith-sharing, instruction, and discussion, you will have the opportunity to grow in your relationship with God as you discover how your faith could be nurtured with the Catholic tradition.

Text: 66 66 D; Christian Henry Bateman, 1843, alt. Music: Spanish Hymn, source unknown.

FIRST READING: Isaiah 6: 1-2a, 3-8

In the year King Uzziah died, I saw the Lord seated on a high and lofty throne, with the train of his garment filling the temple. Seraphim were stationed above. They cried one to the other, "Holy, holy, holy is the LORD of hosts! All the earth is filled with his glory!" At the sound of that cry, the frame of the door shook and the house was filled with smoke. Then I said, "Woe is me, I am doomed! For I am a man of unclean lips, living among a people of unclean lips; yet my eyes have seen the King, the LORD of hosts!" Then one of the seraphim flew to me, holding an ember that he had taken with tongs from the altar. He touched my mouth with it, and said, "See, now that this has touched your lips, your wickedness is removed, your sin purged." Then I heard the voice of the Lord saying, "Whom shall I send? Who will go for us?" "Here I am," I said; "send me!"

RESPONSORIAL PSALM: In the sight of the angels I will sing your praises, Lord.

SECOND READING: 1 Corinthians 15: 1-11

I am reminding you, brothers and sisters, of the gospel I preached to you, which you indeed received and in which you also stand. Through it you are also being saved, if you hold fast to the word I preached to you, unless you believed in vain. For I handed on to you as of first importance what I also received: that Christ died for our sins in accordance with the Scriptures; that he was buried; that he was raised on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures; that he appeared to Cephas, then to the Twelve. After that, Christ appeared to more than five hundred brothers at once, most of whom are still living, though some have fallen asleep. After that he appeared to James, then to all the apostles. Last of all, as to one born abnormally, he appeared to me. For I am the least of the apostles, not fit to be called an apostle, because I persecuted the church of God. But by the grace of God I am what I am, and his grace to me has not been ineffective. Indeed, I have toiled harder than all of them; not I, however, but the grace of God that is with me. Therefore, whether it be I or they, so we preach and so you believed.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION: Alleluia, Alleluia, Alleluia

GOSPEL: Luke 5: 1-11

While the crowd was pressing in on Jesus and listening to the word of God, he was standing by the Lake of Gennesaret. He saw two boats there alongside the lake; the fishermen had disembarked and were washing their nets. Getting into one of the boats, the one belonging to Simon, he asked him to put out a short distance from the shore. Then he sat down and taught the crowds from the boat. After he had finished speaking, he said to Simon, "Put out into deep water and lower your nets for a catch." Simon said in reply, "Master, we have worked hard all night and have caught nothing, but at your command I will lower the nets." When they had done this, they caught a great number of fish and their nets were tearing. They signaled to their partners in the other boat to come to help them. They came and filled both boats so that the boats were in danger of sinking. When Simon Peter saw this, he fell at the knees of Jesus and said, "Depart from me, Lord, for I am a sinful man." For astonishment at the catch of fish they had made seized him and all those with him, and likewise James and John, the sons of Zebedee, who were partners of Simon. Jesus said to Simon, "Do not be afraid; from now on you will be catching men." When they brought their boats to the shore, they left everything and followed him.

CREED:

I believe in one God, the Father almighty, maker of heaven and earth, of all things visible and invisible. I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God, born of the Father before all ages. God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God, begotten, not made, consubstantial with the Father, through him all things were made. For us men and for our salvation, he came down from heaven.

At the words that follow, up to and including “and became man”, all bow.

And by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary, and became man.

For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate, he suffered death and was buried, and rose again on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures. He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father. He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead and his kingdom will have no end. I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life, who proceeds from the Father and the Son, who with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified, who has spoken through the prophets. I believe in one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church. I confess one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead and the life of the world to come. Amen.
