The Work of the Harvest
Pat Lipperini

As we enter the fullness of summer, we usually think about relaxing and getting away from our regular schedules. We want to replenish our energies. We want to reconnect with people or nature. We want a break. And so, I find it ironic that today's gospel is a call to work.

In this gospel, Jesus appoints seventy-two others (besides the 12) "whom he sent ahead of him in pairs to every town and place he intended to visit. He said to them, "The harvest is abundant, but the laborers are few; so ask the master of the harvest to send out laborers for his harvest."

Usually, that iconic statement: The harvest is abundant, but the laborers are few..." receives most of the attention. It has most often been interpreted as an invitation to the priesthood or religious life and indeed, many priests, brothers, or sisters would site this line as instrumental in their response to God's call. And certainly, most of us, hearing about the plentiful harvest and the scarcity of laborers, hope and pray that people might choose to become priests or enter religious life or at least work as a Director of Religious Ed! But it is rarer that we listen to these words and apply them to our own lives right now. We tend to think of them as a call to professionalism in the church. Our everyday secular lives don't seem to qualify. We can feel a bit off the hook when it comes to the work of the harvest.

But when I reflect upon the gospel's opening statement—a line I never noticed before now—I realize that Jesus asks a broad network of believers to bring his Good News to others. The gospel states that Jesus sent the seventy-two "ahead of him in pairs to every town and place he intended to visit." He gives them general instructions about how to interact with those they met and tells them to announce that the kingdom of God is at hand. In other words, Jesus asks them to go ahead of him as an advance team to prepare the people for his presence.

This enlarges the idea of his laborers by number and by task. Besides the specialized vocations pertinent to church life, we see that all of us have a role in the harvest. We just need to understand the vocational nature of our lives, born at our baptism. Can we imagine ourselves as Jesus' prep people? Because that is what we all are and at the very least, that is what Jesus needs from us. Everyone has the responsibility and the ability to help prepare another's soil, another's ears, to hear the good news of God's love so to enter more fully into a life of faith. We are parents, grandparents, aunts, uncles, siblings, friends, co-workers, volunteers. Such a wide range of influence. So many fields ready to be worked.

Certainly, this includes volunteering for ministry within the parish. But it extends far beyond parish life. There are foundational concepts of faith—unconditional love, forgiveness, moral living—that people often need to experience prior to connection to God. Can we believe in a forgiving God if we've never experienced forgiveness? By bolstering this foundation, we create inroads for Jesus to come. Jesus asks us, his advance team, to proclaim the kingdom of God through words of love, of hope, of encouragement, of forgiveness, of solace, and of joy. He asks us to set examples of reverence by attending mass, praying before meals, and serving the poor.

As we relax in the soft summer air let us pay attention to the fields right before us and do our part to ready the soil for harvest. The work doesn't stop during the summer months. Jesus intends on visiting. May our own lives help people to recognize this holy visitor.

Stewardship Charisms

"He said to them, 'The harvest is abundant, but the laborers are few...'" LUKE 10:2

As Catholics, we are all called to serve. Each of us has been given "charisms" otherwise known as gifts from the Holy Spirit to help build God's Church. Our charisms can only be used for good. We know that we are using them in the right ministry when we are filled with joy and we want to share stories about our charitable works. Discern how God is calling you to Stewardship using your charisms. Say "yes" to what God is calling you to do and then do it! Share your joy and invite others to do the same.

Parish Celebration of Corpus Christi: Prayers for Conversion: 1-2

Prayer 1

Lord God, we thank You and praise You for the many ways You have blessed us and brought us close to You in our lives. We humbly ask that You grant the grace of conversion to all who are in need of it. Bless us with Christ's transforming grace, enabling us to have hope in dark moments, to begin again. We know, O God, that you often bring conversion to us through others; help us to be open to the ways you bring us to holiness. Guide us, too, in being instruments of your mercy and grace to those who are asking for your help. Let us understand that the reign of God is not simply about the transformation of persons, but transforming the world into your reign of justice, love and peace.

We ask You to grant the grace of conversion to all who are far from Your friendship, and we particularly ask today that You bring to conversion all those who have turned from you.

In Jesus' name. Amen.

Prayer 2

Lord God, in our fallen world, there are many temptations to pursue worldly pleasures. Some of Your people have chosen to turn from You in order to pursue these worldly pleasures and material goods exclusively. We ask today that You bring to conversion all those who have turned from You to pursue their own desires in the world! Help us to renounce our own wills in order to follow You more closely.

We also ask You to help all who preach to be successful in their work of winning souls for You! Help us to do all we can to help spread the Gospel to those around us each day.

In Jesus' name. Amen.

Volunteers Needed: English Classes

Dear Parishioners,

Pope Francis states that volunteers are, "among the most precious things the Church has ... your presence is the hand of Christ held out to all, and reaching all".

The Sisters of Saint Joseph Neighborhood Center in the Cramer Hill section of Camden, offers English classes to our immigrant sisters and brothers. The Sisters are inviting you to participate in this ministry of teaching English. We are inviting volunteers 18 and older to be present to our Neighbors and share their love of the English language for two hours on Tuesday or Thursday morning or evening.

*Thank you for considering this ministry.

Weekly Tip: Caring for Our Common Home

"... In some places, where the facades of buildings are derelict, people show great care for the interior of their homes, or find contentment in the kindness and friendliness of others. A wholesome social life can light up a seemingly undesirable environment."

LIFE-LONG FAITH FORMATION

Growing in Faith At Every Age

*I want a laity, ... who know their religion, who enter into it, who know just where they stand, who know what they hold and what they do not, who know their creed so well that they can give an account of it, who know so much of history that they can defend it. I want an intelligent, well-instructed laity — I wish you to enlarge your knowledge, to cultivate your reason, to get an insight into the relation of truth to truth, to learn to view things as they are, to understand how faith and reason stand to each other, what are the bases and principles of Catholicism...Cardinal John Henry Newman

ENTRANCE HYMN: Let Heaven Rejoice Breaking Bread #575

LET HEAVEN REJOICE

Bob Dufford, SJ

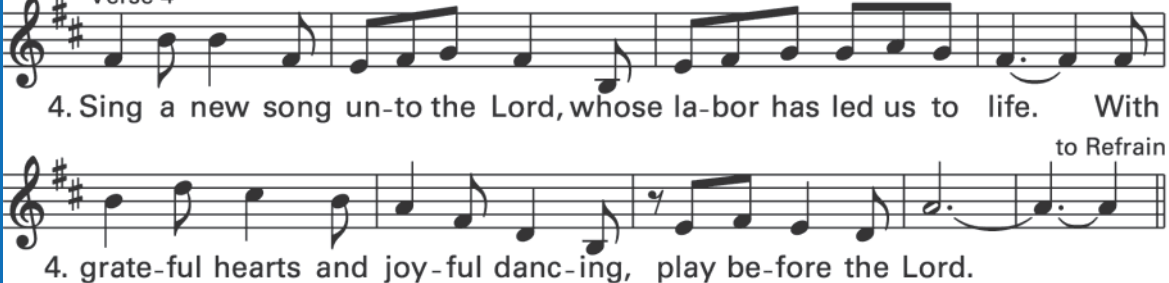

Refrain

Verses 1-3

Verse 4

© 1972, 1997, Robert J. Dufford, SJ. Published by OCP. All rights reserved.

GLORIA: Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace to people of good will. We praise you; we bless you; we adore you; we glorify you; we give you thanks for your great glory, Lord God, heavenly King, O God, almighty Father. Lord Jesus Christ, Only Begotten Son, Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father, you take away the sins of the world, have mercy on us; you take away the sins of the world, receive our prayer; you are seated at the right hand of the Father, have mercy on us. For you alone are the Holy One, you alone are the Lord, you alone are the Most High, Jesus Christ, with the Holy Spirit, in the glory of God, the Father. Amen.

FIRST READING: Isaiah 66: 10-14c

Thus says the LORD: Rejoice with Jerusalem and be glad because of her, all you who love her; exult, exult with her, all you who were mourning over her! Oh, that you may suck fully of the milk of her comfort, that you may nurse with delight at her abundant breasts! For thus says the LORD: Lo, I will spread prosperity over Jerusalem like a river, and the wealth of the nations like an overflowing torrent. As nurslings, you shall be carried in her arms, and fondled in her lap; as a mother comforts her child, so will I comfort you; in Jerusalem you shall find your comfort. When you see this, your heart shall rejoice and your bodies flourish like the grass; the LORD's power shall be known to his servants.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM: Let all the earth cry out to God with joy.

SECOND READING: Galatians 6:14-18

Brothers and sisters: May I never boast except in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, through which the world has been crucified to me, and I to the world. For neither does circumcision mean anything, nor does uncircumcision, but only a new creation. Peace and mercy be to all who follow this rule and to the Israel of God. From now on, let no one make troubles for me; for I bear the marks of Jesus on my body. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with your spirit, brothers and sisters. Amen.

GOSPEL: Luke 10: 1-12, 17-20

At that time the Lord appointed seventy-two others whom he sent ahead of him in pairs to every town and place he intended to visit. He said to them, "The harvest is abundant but the laborers are few; so ask the master of the harvest to send out laborers for his harvest. Go on your way; behold, I am sending you like lambs among wolves. Carry no money bag, no sack, no sandals; and greet no one along the way. Into whatever house you enter, first say, 'Peace to this household.' If a peaceful person lives there, your peace will rest on him; but if not, it will return to you. Stay in the same house and eat and drink what is offered to you, for the laborer deserves his payment. Do not move about from one house to another. Whatever town you enter and they welcome you, eat what is set before you, cure the sick in it and say to them, 'The kingdom of God is at hand for you.' Whatever town you enter and they do not receive you, go out into the streets and say, 'The dust of your town that clings to our feet, even that we shake off against you.' Yet know this: the kingdom of God is at hand. I tell you, it will be more tolerable for Sodom on that day than for that town." The seventy-two returned rejoicing, and said, "Lord, even the demons are subject to us because of your name." Jesus said, "I have observed Satan fall like lightning from the sky. Behold, I have given you the power to 'tread upon serpents' and scorpions and upon the full force of the enemy and nothing will harm you. Nevertheless, do not rejoice because the spirits are subject to you, but rejoice because your names are written in heaven."

CREED: I believe in one God, the Father almighty, maker of heaven and earth, of all things visible and invisible. I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ, the Only Begotten Son of God, born of the Father before all ages. God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God, begotten, not made, consubstantial with the Father, through him all things were made. For us men and for our salvation, he came down from heaven.

At the words that follow, up to and including “and became man”, all bow.

And by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary, and became man.

For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate, he suffered death and was buried, and rose again on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures. He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father. He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead and his kingdom will have no end. I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord, the giver of life, who proceeds from the Father and the Son, who with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified, who has spoken through the prophets. I believe in one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church. I confess one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead and the life of the world to come. Amen.
